ABOUT THE TOURNAMENT

The Kathy Whitworth Invitational was established in 1999 with the goal of providing talented junior girl golfers the opportunity to participate at the highest tier of competitive golf on a premier championship course and to generate funds to support the Kathy Whitworth Foundation.

Introduction

The Kathy Whitworth Invitational Junior Girls Golf Tournament brings together 72 of the world's best junior girl golfers to compete at The Lakes at Castle Hills, a premier championship course in Lewisville, Texas. Recognized by the AJGA Rolex Rankings, players earn points based on the strength of the field and their final standings.

More than just golf.

The tournament benefits local charities in Tarrant County including the Boys & Girls Club, The First Tee and Youth on Course. Since 1999, the tournament has been conducted with the ideals of the USGA: to promote love of the game while building confidence, character, leadership, sportsmanship and responsibility. Tournament entry acceptance is based on playing ability and merit.

With high standards, the tournament attracts top U.S. and international junior girl golfers as well as college coaches. Many KWI alumni have played in college and the LPGA, including Paula Creamer, Morgan Pressel, Nelly Korda, Jessica Korda, Christina Kim, Jane Rah, Brittany Lang, Jane Park and many more.

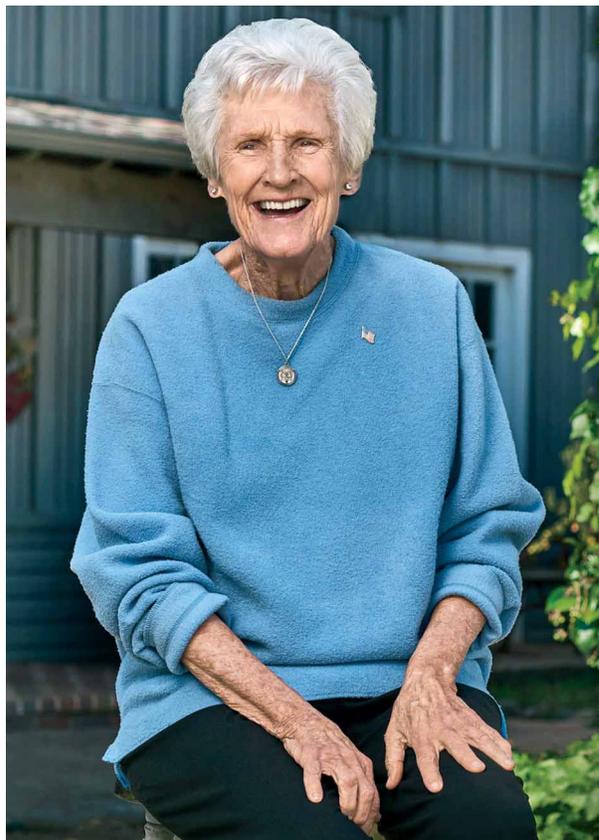

ABOUT KATHY WHITWORTH

The Kathy Whitworth Foundation has an impact on and off the golf course

If you asked Kathy, she was just a woman who loved golf, worked hard and got lucky. If you ask anyone else who knew Kathy, they will tell you that she is a Golf Legend and a true champion who was committed to the future of golf.

Her resume is extensive, boasting accomplishments such as 88 LPGA Tournament wins, World Golf Hall of Fame Inductee, Two-time Associated Press Female Athlete of the Year, and Captain of the USA teams for the Solheim and Junior Solheim Cups. Kathy readily admitted that golf changed the trajectory of her life and opened doors she could not have even dreamed. She was passionate about future generations having opportunities in golf, not just to be future collegiate and professional players, but to be outstanding members of their communities.

We invite you to join this remarkable legacy.
